

My aims as a volunteer officer are to ensure that trans student at Salford university don't feel outcasted and have the ability to express themselves as they wish whether out or stealth. I believe that no one in university should have to be questioned about their gender.

The pigeon says trans rights.