

Manifesto

Hello, my name is Humoud AlJassar. I am one of the many amazing candidates running for BAME. I will make this short. I honestly do not want to make unrealistic promises that I won't keep. What I will promise, is this... Advocacy and Unity for all BAME students. I have been on the other end of not knowing who to turn to in a time of need. I am here to eradicate that and make people feel heard and cared for. What I ask in return, is a smile from you and that's it, that's how I know I have accomplished my job.

I'm not here to talk diversity; but to raise the volume of it. Let's not get carried away and forget about the fun part, events, workshops, celebrations, holidays; you name it, I'm here for it. My voice is yours solely. Please, let us grow together.

So let's spice up our student politics, my dear friends. One clever comment at a time, we'll use your support to paint our university in the hues of diversity.

Yours in diversity,
Humoud

— What's one thing students need to know about you?

Honestly? I'm just here to help you. Plain and simple.

— What do you think is the biggest challenge students face?

Loneliness... boy is that a heavy topic. I am already tackling the issue with the university, with this role I could make some major impacts on eradicating loneliness.

—What's your biggest priority when you get into office?

Biggest and the most important is to ensure international student know that they are supported every step of the way, from coming into campus, all the way to their graduation day. They are NOT alone.

—What does the student union mean to you?

The student Union is a breath of fresh air. It means, having someone that got your back for whenever you need it.